

Library to Hold Community Forums

Carmel, IN – The Carmel Clay Public Library is in the midst of a strategic planning process that is exploring new visions and strategies for relevant, targeted and exceptional library service well into the future. The goal is to create a compelling vision of what the Carmel Library will be – and why – in the next decade, based upon an understanding of future scenarios, and the issues and trends that will impact and shape not only our immediate community, but the larger world around us.

We would like your input! Join us for a community conversation at one of two Community Forums:

Carmel Clay Public Library Program Room
Wednesday, September 28
7:00 to 9:00 p.m.

Creekside Middle School Auditorium
3525 West 126th Street
Thursday, September 29
7:00 to 9:00 p.m.

Please RSVP to strategicplanning@carmel.lib.in.us and let us know which forum you will be attending.

Everyone is welcome, whether you are a library user or not. Help us to understand what you need from your library, shape what the library does to make your life better, and identify what our priorities should be!

Questions or comments should be directed to the library's Communications Manager, Beth Smietana, at bsmietana@carmel.lib.in.us or 571-4292. For updates as the process moves forward, visit www.carmel.lib.in.us.

We regret that due to scheduling and venue constraints, these forums take place on Rosh Hashanah, a High Holiday in the Jewish calendar. It is not the library's intent to exclude anyone from the forums or strategic planning process. We value input from all members of our community, and hope that anyone who cannot attend these forums will complete our survey at www.carmel.lib.in.us/survey and/or attend the community forum that will take place in November (exact date and more information soon).
